FROM MADISON.

Editorial Correspondence of the Sentinel.

Prairie du Chien, March 10, 1856.

I send you a report of the doings in Supreme Court this afternoon. The Court room was crowded, as it has been throughout the whole case.

The Lunatic Asylum bill was considered in Assembly this afternoon. It is thought that there is not a majority for it.

I do not believe that the attempt to impeach the Supreme Court will be made, for it must fail.

Mr. Woodman, of Jefferson, says that his name was omitted in my report of these who were to try Mr. Knowlton's resolutions on the table the other day, and desires me to add it to the list, as he does not wish his constituents to say that he dodged. W. H. W.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The Avalia, with a week's later dates from Europe, arrived yesterday at Halifax. She brings no tidings of the missing Pacific and little news of interest. The Peace Conference is in session at Paris, making favorable progress. Broadcasts are again lower.

The New Hampshire election has resulted in a partial victory for the Administration.

The Anti-Negro奴ous Congressional Caucus at Washington seems to have been a large and spirited gathering. It will tell upon the coming Presidential contest.

In Assembly yesterday the Bill to restore Capital Punishment for the crime of murder, was indefinitely postponed by three majority. The Senate passed a number of bills. The Supreme Court was not in session.

See local and telegraph columns for a variety of news items.

WARS AND RUMORS OF WARS.

The report was quite false in the city, yesterday, that Mr. Bakewell had ordered the Riffs Company to Madison, to aid him in resisting the Supreme Court. The report was unfounded. It doubtless grew out of the fact that Mr. Bakewell despatched Jimmy Halpin to this city with an order upon the Military Store Keeper here, Capt. Phillips, to send all the surplus arms in his charge to Madison. In pursuance of that order about 120 stand of arms were yesterday sent by Express to Madison. It remains to be seen what the usurper proposes to do with them.

Meeting at Young's Hall.

There was a large meeting at Young's Hall on Monday night, in pursuance of a call upon our citizens to sustain Gov. Bushnell in the position he took in his special message to the Legislature.

The meeting was presided over by Hon. J. C. Bakewell, a member of a Vice Presidents from each ward, and several Secretaries.

The meeting adopted a series of resolutions, not without some spirit of hostility, as we understand, and was addressed by the President, J. E. Arnold, Esq., and Hon. M. M. Strong, all sustaining the course pursued by the Governor. The resolutions and proceedings as reported to the Wisconsin Journal, are as follows:

Resolved, That we heartily endorse the course pursued by the President, from his length, from this morning's paper. We shall give them to morrow—Morning News, of yesterday.

The Meeting last Night at Young's Hall.

It was confessably one of the largest ever held in the city. The special hall was filled to overflowing. The President, the meeting was Hon. Byron Kilbourn. The speakers were JOSEPH E. ARNOLD and MOSES M. STRONG, of this city. The resolutions, drawn up with a decided ability, sustained the course pursued by the Governor in regard to the action of the Supreme Court in their decision, whatever it may be in the Bushnell case. A full report of the proceedings by our reporter, will be found on the third page—Wisconsin, of Tuesday.

We are strongly indicative of the party sentiment in this city, the counsels of our democratic contemporaries upon the Conspirator's meeting on Monday night. It will be seen that both the Wisconsin and the News carefully abstain from endorsing the resolutions, or joining the usurper Bakewell in his proposed crusade against the Courts and the Law, and content themselves with referring their readers to the report of the proceedings. The German democratic papers manifest a like reserve, and it was remarked that the German speakers announced and the German "masses" expected, at the Young's Hall meeting, did not attend. This far, assuredly, the conspiracy to defy and override our judicial tribunals, trample upon the law and make might the measure of right in this State, has been most signalized by the people and press of Milwaukee. They will not follow the lead, or return to the courses of the desperadoes at Madison. Catiline and his crew must look elsewhere for backers in their maddest treason against the State.

The CONSPIRATOR'S MEETING ON MONDAY.

The Madison Argus, its instrument for the work, has undertaken the task (which no journal in this city would stoop to) of falsifying the proceedings of the Democratic meeting at Young's Hall, on Monday evening. Here is the organ's explanation of the uncomfortable fact that the resolutions endorsing Bakewell, were voted down by a decided and unmistakable expression:"During the course of the meeting, by a decided arrangement unknown to the public, a crowd of 200 men, mostly negroes, gathered under the galleries in the rear of the Hall, and when the vote was taken on the adoption of the resolutions, they, by a continued effort succeeded in getting up a roar of狂怒, and shouting and crying and to the crowded state of the room, it was equally impossible to decide the meeting, and it being evident that it was the sense of nearly all present that they were right, and that the Argus was wrong, the crowd made my objection except the knot of ruffians allowed to do so."

We have our facts from a number of persons who came out in the cars, and as we received no official report ever gives, for political statements, we cannot give the resolutions or further particulars.

We don't believe that any "persons who came out in the cars" will stand sponsors for so palpable a fabrication. It bears the Argus marks too clearly to be fathomed upon any body else. It would be superfluous to contradict a statement which every one who was present at the meeting knows to be utterly and wantonly false.

Local Transportation Companies.

We are glad to learn that Mr. J. T. TALLMAN, the efficient Agent of the American Transportation Company at this port, during the last year, has been re-appointed the agency for the Western Transportation Company. Mr. TALLMAN, while attending faithfully and intelligently to the interests of his employer, has given entire satisfaction to our Merchants and Forwarders, and his continuance in office is as acceptable to them, as it must prove advantageous to the two Companies.

It is the intention of these Companies to run jointly a daily line of Propellers, to and from Milwaukee, during the coming season of navigation. And as they anticipate a large business, they have leased the Warehouse, sheds and docks of DOUGLASS & CO., adjoining the Walker's Point Bridge, which will supply them a River front, equivalent to nearly 400 feet, and ample room for the landing and storage of merchandise. We take it for granted that our Merchants and Forwarders especially, fully appreciate the advantages of a Milwaukee Line of Propellers, and will do their part to make the enterprise a profitable one for its projectors. We do not doubt, that a daily line this season, will find steady employment, and that, next year, with the Mil. & M. Railroad completed to the Mississippi, it will require less Propellers a day to accommodate the flood of business which will pour along this thoroughfare.

KANSAS MEETING AT WAUKEGAN.—A very large and enthusiastic Kansas aid meeting was held at Waukegan on Monday evening last. An Association was formed for the County, with corresponding organizations in each of the towns.—The sum of $25 was subscribed to the fund, and a hundred Dollars contributed for distribution in the new Territory.

A NEW DAILY.—We are in receipt of the first number of the Fond du Lac Union, now published daily. It is a nice looking little sheet, giving evidence of spirit and vitality and will be liberally sustained if the people of Fond du Lac understand their true interests.

MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL, THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 13, 1856.

LAW vs. ANARCHY.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

Prairie du Chien, March 10, 1856.

Messrs. Editors.—Believing that there are numbers of good Mechanics in the City of Milwaukee and other large cities throughout the country, whose prosperity would be greatly increased by removing to a smaller place where all kinds of Mechanical skill would be better rewarded, and where men of limited means would be more certain of securing for themselves and families homes; I would take this means of inviting such persons to turn their attention to the growing and beautiful town of Prairie du Chien. Upon this spot nature has lavished its most beautiful mechanism—and it only remains for the hand of enterprise and industry to create the most beautiful town upon the almost endless banks of the great Father of Waters. This is the time to move, the time to secure homes, and the time when men of steady industrious habits will be offered cordially and their labor well remunerated.

I will undertake to name a few of the kinds of machines which would be well paid here.

In the first place we want more Carpenters and Joiners, and there is not much danger that too many of this class of Artizans will come; for hundreds of dwellings and other buildings will be erected here this season, if the men can be found to do the work.

We want three or four good Lumber Yards.

This is a business which pays well in any town, and especially in a town where the demand is great as it is here.

Want additional Brick Makers.

I am a bricklayer; those that are here, it is believed, have already engaged as much work as they can finish during the coming season; and yet, there are many persons here and many more that are coming, that will need the services of scores of this class of Mechanics.

Stone Cutters, Masons and Lime Burners will be great demands, and their labor will paid well.

Want a printing establishment.

I will undertake to name a few of the kinds of machines which would be well paid here.

Want a blacksmith.

I am a blacksmith; those that are here, it is believed, have already engaged as much work as they can finish during the coming season; and yet, there are many persons here and many more that are coming, that will need the services of scores of this class of Mechanics.
